THE troops in the Indian country have had another battle with the Indians, with much more satisfactory results. Quite a number of the savages were captured, and one of the bands was completely routed, while the loss on our side was small.

J. H. GRAHAM, jr., of Carlisle, has been elected Senatorial delegate and Samuel N. Emminger, of Mechanicsburg, representative delegate to represent Cumberland co., in the next Democratic State Convention. These delegates are under instructions to support Hon. J. H. Graham, of Carlisle, for Supreme Judge.

ILLINOIS has done a very sensible thing in providing that the trial of important criminal cases shall not hereafter be committed to non-reading, ignorant jurors. The new jury law provides "that it shall not be a cause of challenge that a juror has read in the newspapers an account of the commission of the crime with which the prisoner is charged, if such juror shall state on oath that he believes he can render an impartial verdiet according to the law and the evidence."

It is no reflection on Republican principles to say that the government is not served by the most competent subordinates which the country affords. Take the postoffice as an example. There never was the same amount of pilfering done in that the same amount of pilfering done in that department as is now perpetrated. Every merchant that you converse with, com-plains of loss through the mails, and even money orders, which are supposed to be the safest, are stolen and destroyed; and what is most strange is, when a mail rob-ber is arrested and convicted of his crime, after immonse trouble on the part of the postal authorities, he is either given the lightest possible sentence or pardoned. The work done for the government in our flavy yards is of a character to be worthless, though its cost is treble that of the best work done by private yards on private ac-count. Our arsenals are mere depositories count. Our arsenals are mere depositories where the public property is daily decaying—and thus we could run through the catalogue, showing that there is a mismanagement in these affairs which demands immediate revision and reform.—Harrisburg State Journal.

This may be no reflection on Republican principles, but to most readers the above article will seem to be a very severe reflection upon the practices of those whose duty it is to see that the affairs of the Nation are properly conducted.

Geo. Francis Train, Insane.

In the Train case, last week, the court directed the jury to render a verdict of not guilty, on the ground of insanity. Train's counsel said two of the jurors say that is not their verdict. The court repli ed that the verdict is entered, and that part of the case is disposed of. Dr. Cross testified that this insanity continues, and Train must be sent to the State lunatic asylum. Mr. Train (excitedly), "I protest against the proceedings here. I have been five months in jail without being granted a trial." Then addressing Judge Davis, he said, "Before leaving here I move your impeachment, in the name of the people." Judge Davis ordered him to sit down' and an order was made out to send him to the State lunatic asylum.

Judge Faucher has granted a writ of habeas corpus returnable Thursday next, to show case why Train should not be releas-

A woman who was involved in the falling of the bridge at Dixon, Illinois, gave a curious description of her experience : "In the twinkling of an eye," she said, "There was a tremendous crash, and we were all spilled out. In the midst of it." the lady went on to say, "I went into the water with a thud, I went down with my mouth open, screaming. I think I must have struck bottom. From the time I was spilled till I was dragged ashore seemed to me three hours. My 'back hair' is gone among the rest; I shant advertise it; the finder is welcome to it, I am sure."

A Cattle Drover Robbed of $1,600.

The Kansas City Times, of the 16th inst., says: There is no use in disguising the fact that this city is; cursed with the presence of a mob of confidence operators and robbers. They are not always here, nor, indeed, have they any continuous abiding place, but their visits of late have been so frequent, and their deeds committed with such impunity, as to demand the most vigilant and active efforts of the detective and patrol force. There is no disposition on the part of any good citizen to cast undeserved blame upon the police force, but its efficiency must be proved by acts before praise will be bestowed.

On yesterday morning one of the most daring robberies ever attempted was accomplished in that city, and the victim, an experienced traveler, accustomed to be on his guard against the perils that beset moneyed travelers, but the cunning and adroitness of the deed made it successful. The following are the brief facts in the case: On last Thursday Mr. D. W. Goff, a cattle drover, of Oskaloosa, Kausas, passed through this city with a drove which he took to St. Louis. He disposed of his stock in that market, and on Monday started back, intending to go to Leavenworth. Yesterday morning he arrived in this city, with $1,609 in a wallet in a pocket inside of his vest, on the Missouri Pacific Rail-

When the train was about pulling out from the State Line station, Mr. Goff was approached by an unknown party, who he was helping to move it. asked him if he was going to Leavenworth. Mr. Goff answered in the affirmative, when the man told him he had better go forward in the next car, as the one he was in would be switched off. Supposing the man to be an attache of the road, Mr. Goff proceeded to move into the next car. When he reached the car platform he was surrounded by four men, who began to crowd and jostle him. Quickly divining their object Mr. Goff attempted to shove them off, but he was closely pressed, and during the little scuffle his wallet was picked from his pocket and Mr. Goff then shoved from the car platform.

The train was by this time in motion, but Mr. Goff was not disposed to give up so easily, and determined to regain the car. As he attempted to step on the platform, three or four fists were thrust threateningly in his face, and he could not court further danger by jumping on a moving train, when men. probably armed, stood ready to dash him off. Before assistance could be obtained, the train was under full speed, and was quickly out of recall.

The telegraph was called into hasty re quisition and the train stopped at Wyandotte, but the robbers had jumped off before-probably almost instantly after Mr. Goff's rude ejection.

A Church Accident.

Shamokin, Pa., May 22.-During the ceremonies of laying the corner stone of the new Catholic church in this borough this afternoon a portion of the temporary flooring which had been erected for the accommodation of the vast multitude assembled gave way and precipitated into the basement beneath a large number of persons. It is impossible at this time to give the names and number of the injured, but it is supposed that six are seriously hurt.

Bishop Wood, of Philadelphia, and Bishop O'Harra, of Scranton, who were conducting the ceremonies at the time of the accident, assisted by about twenty clergymen, were among those who went down with the falling floor, but luckily escaped any serious injury.

Some of the injured are pretty badly hurt. Anthony Kelley, of Mahanoy Plane, formerly freight conductor on the Reading railroad, is so badly hurt that his life is despaired of. One man had both legs broken. A little boy and girl also had their legs broken.

Remarkable Tornado.

The Terre Haute Express says: One of the strangest storm freaks ever know occurred in Sugar Creek township Thursday evening about 6 o'clock, at the time of the hail storm in that city. A tornado commenced on John Harris's place, at Cherry Grove, prostrating the trees in the grove, and sweeping almost with the velocity of lightning to Macksville, a distance of a mile and a quarter, and ending finally in the river bottom, three hundred yards this side of Macksville.

The track of the hurricane was only about forty feet in width, but it swept everything clean before it. Every tree in its course was blown to the earth. In the river bottom giant elms were snapped off as if they had been brittle pipe stems.

Two stables were demolished in Macksville and the tornado struck the corners of two houses, shattering them and carrying articles of bed clothing, etc., a great distance. In the bottom, water was thrown into the air a hundred feet, and altogether the scene was appalling, as could well be imagined. Fortunately no human being was in the track of the tornado.

The suicides of last week gave one of a man of over ninety, and two women of over eighty. The murders included one boy by his father, two wives by their husbands, and two (perhaps three) husbands by their wives. The millennium has not

The head of the animal strongly resembled a bull dog, the body was that of a calf, though shorter, and the legs were very short and thick. The deformed bovine lived but a short time.

A venerable matron took her afternoon nap at Berlin, Wisconsin, as usual, and when she woke up was astonished to learn that a young man who had been warned not to come near the house again had called in company with a Justice of the Peace and married and carried off her daughter.

A singular wreck occurred near Conshohocken, on the Reading railroad, last week. A heavy rope with hook attached fell from the tender of a freight train, one end of which was secured to the tender. As the rope and hook dragged along the track the hook caught in a switch and turned it, thus causing the engine and tender to run into a coal train and wreck several of the cars.

Granville Hudson stood in the pillory an hour, for cutting his wife's throat, it being part of his sentence.

On Monday a week at St. Louis, Seventeen prisoners confined in the county jail made a preconcerted attempt to escape under the leadership of Memphis Bill Gus Canton and other notorious thieves. The plot was exposed by another prisoner named Nolan, and frustrated. Next morning, during the hour for the exercise of the prisoners, they became riotous, and attacked Nolan, beating him badly before the fracas was quieted.

About three years ago David M'-Glinchey, of Palo Alto, Schuylkill county, was hurt while a brakeman. On Friday last, the limb paining him, he consulted a doctor. The fact served only to bring out the pluck of the groom, who hastened to Aiken's Theatre, found Deputy County Clerk Young, had him notified by the management-the play being suspended-and in company with the gentleman proceeded to the court-house and obtained the necessary documents. The groom, while undoubtedly happy, is out the price of his berths in a sleeping car.

On Sunday night the 18th inst., during a riot at the White House, a summer resort a short distance below Reading a young man, named James Hann, was shot dead; David Walters was shot in the neck, and William Briner was shot in the right cheek. Walters and Briner are not dangerously hurt. The shooting was done at close quarters by a sub-boss engaged on a contract on the Berks County railroad, named John Peoples, who was arrested by Chief of Police Cullen. Peoples alleges he did the shooting in self-defense. The revolver found on him was discovered to have been reloaded with different cartridges.

The Montreal Witness tells the story that a fascinating New York widow, while boarding in Montreal, fell in love with a son of her landlady, proposed to him, and was accepted. The wedding-day was named, and affairs were going on lovely until the widow received notice from New York that in marrying she would forfeit her fortune. With emphatic reflections, if not maledictions, she finally concluded to stick to the fortune, and the Montreal young man is a victim of misplaced affection. He is still willing to marry her, and if he has any pride at all will bring suit for breach of promise.

The wonderful intelligence of the dog is shown in a recent case of suicide in New York. About 2 o'clock in the morning Carl Brossler was aroused by a dog belonging to his brother Lewis. The dog walked across the bed, scratching his face, and then leaping on the floor, began to bark loudly. Thinking the animal's actions very strange, he got up out of bed and went to the door. Looking up the hall-way, he saw the body of Lewis hanging by the neck from a leather strap which was tied to a hook fixed in the hinge of the
